CALIFORNIA EMERGING TECHNOLOGY FUND

Many school families are facing a difficult dilemma: As they struggle to pay bills during the coronavirus pandemic, they are worried about how to pay for Internet at home so their children won't fall behind during distance learning and over the summer. That's why access to low-cost Internet (and for a limited time, some Internet providers are offering 2 months free) and affordable computing devices is more important than ever. The California Emerging Technology Fund (CETF), an independent nonprofit not connected to Internet providers, has information to help families sign up for home Internet, computers and digital skills training in the zip code where they live. To learn more please read this flier, and visit www.everyoneon.org/capta.

SKYONE FEDERAL CREDIT UNION

SkyOne Federal Credit Union is a full-service, not-for profit financial institution with a network of over 66,000 ATMs and 4,000 shared branches. For over 70 years we have been helping people like you to achieve their financial goals, whether it be paying college tuition, buying a new car, or managing credit and debt. Are you looking to save and make some money? Take advantage of this special offer for California State PTA members and help lower your car payment and make some extra cash: Refinance your auto loan from another financial institution with SkyOne, and get up to $200! Plus, no payments for 90 days! Click here to apply. We are also passionate about financial education and have programs to assist both adults and children in learning financial responsibility. Our great no-cost virtual learning programs for kids of all ages can help educate them on budgeting and managing finances. Click here for more information.
